VALUE OF THE TIME TEST.

The most sensible journal representing the harness racing side of the turf is The Horse Review of Chicago. Its figures are keen and to the point and the editorial comments of the bright young men who write them are always keen and pointed. Now and again the Horse Review comments on thoroughbred racing. When it does, its comments are common-sensible and up to date. In the current Review, "Volunteer," always a close and concise critic, has the following to say of the much discussed "time" test and the English idea of it:

One of the most interesting topics of the turf ever discussed is that of the time test. It is usually viewed from one of two radically different standpoints—either as delusive, or else as the one infallible test of a horse's quality. Among thoroughbred owners and trainers the former belief is most largely entertained, while the latter is the opinion of the average trotting horseman.

The discredit of the time test on the running turf originated in England. There but little credit is allowed it; time cuts no figures with the handicappers or critics, a horse's class being determined entirely by the horses he beats and the weights he carries and distances at which he is able to win. In America, however, it is not so strong; many of our prominent owners and trainers are guided by English examples, but many more are of a different school and place almost as much confidence in the efficacy of the watch as do their trotting brethren. The race going public in this country is also ever hungry for broken records, whether at a running or a harness meeting.

With this in view, the recent utterances of Country Life, the most sumptuous of all British publications which give close attention to the "sport of kings," upon the subject, are pregnant with interest. In its issue of December 18, in discussing the jockeys of the year, "Outpost" pays a very neat compliment to "Tod" Sloan, the American boy who has been riding with such great success across the pond, and, among other things, says:

"The principal fault in the riding of the jockeys of the present day is that they seem to have no knowledge of pace,  and that is where the American jockey, Sloan, can give all ours such a lot of weight.  In America, where he learnt to ride, all fast gallops and trials, as well as races, are ridden against the 'clock,' and it seems to me only natural to suppose that by this means anyone must, in time, learn to judge better what pace he is going than by riding gallops without any check as to time at all.  The only way in which to make certain of winning a race, supposing one's horse is good enough, is to ride him so that he does the distance in the fastest time he is able to. For this his jockey has to know exactly what pace he is going all the way, and as long as he does this, and rides him accordingly, he can afford to more or less neglect the rest of the field, but this can only be learnt to perfection by constant riding against time.  There is where Sloan is so good. He nearly always gets off in front and there he stays;  if he has to pull back, he does so, but still keeps his horse going at the speed which he knows will get him to the winning post in the shortest time possible.  It is obvious that this style of riding requires a very accurate judgment of pace on the part of its exponents, which is what Sloan possesses in such a remarkable degree, and of which our jockeys are so lamentably deficient.  When our trainers give up their narrow-minded, old-fashioned prejudices, and copy the Americans by 'clocking' all their fast work, they will form much more reliable opinions as to the fitness and form of their horses, make fewer mistakes than they do now about their trials, and educate a very superior race of jockeys to those who are riding now."

These are strong and interesting words; unusually so when it is remembered how slow the average Englishman is to abandon his own institutions for foreign innovations. But our semi-English cousins in Australia, whose thoroughbreds are as good as the world may boast, awoke to the real import and value of the time test long ago, and it figures as largely in their racing and training as it does in ours. And the words of Country Life are evidence of the fact that there is at least an inkling of the same opinion beginning to be felt in the "tight little isle" itself.

AMERICAN RACING RECORDS.

THE AMERICAN SPORTING MANUAL.

The American Sporting Manual will be far above what was promised for it. The book will contain at least 200 pages. Its turf, billiard and pugilistic records will outclass any ever before printed in an annual book of records. The book will be on general sale by Thursday, at 25 cents. Its covers will be substantial and handsome and its contents welcome to every lover of correct records. Some old records have been probed and rejected or corrected. The handicap table explanations will fill a long felt want. All the contents will be protected by registration and copyright and all parties are warned not to use them.

THE LEATHER COVERED MANUAL.

There will be a limited number of copies of the American Sporting Manual bound in flexible leather. Only local and mail-direct-orders will be supplied. The leather covered book will be ready by January 15, at 50 cents. The leather covered Manual will not be on general sale.

Time, 25½, 52, 1:05, 1:11½.

Winner—B. f. 4, by Wildidle—Rosetta.
Start good. Won easily. The next three were driving hard. Dolore revels in mud and was lucky and well ridden. Veragua is good and can be tabbed for early action. Heritage ran an extra good race. He is ready, runs best in mellow going and closed strong. Spry Lark is only a sprinter. She does her best in fast going and is good. Bobolink is best on a fast track. Torpedo should be watched. He was backed heavily on the strength of work; was short. He is good and favors fast going.

Scratched—Nervula, 100.

Overweights—Dolore, 3 pounds; Veragua, 2; Spry Lark, 2; Red Bird, 5; Mount Roy, 3; Torpedo, 4.

Time, 25½, 50½, 1:02½, 1:09.

Winner—B. m. 6, by Harry O'Fallon—Fleta.
Start good. Won in a hard drive. O'Fleta ran an extra good race and was beautifully handled. Clayton just landed her by outdressing McNichols. The Star ran an honest race and was lucky. Martin was best and should have won. He was cut off at the start and on the back stretch. Spray, Easel and Roadwarmer are only sprinters. Distinction ran as if she likes distance off. She showed a lot of speed. She will do best on a fast course and was far from well ridden. Spray favors a smooth, hard course.

Scratched—Peril, 100; Koenigen, 100; Judge Stouffer, 102; Chappie, 102; February, 105.

Time, 24½, 49½, 1:03, 1:16½, 1:29½.

Winner—B. f. by Longstreet—Bonetta.
Start good. Won very easily; second in a drive. Bonito is keenly on edge and is a wonder in soft going. She favors a distance, too. Attainment ran her race. She was shut off at start and in the back stretch and finished strong. Imperious, badly ridden, hardly ran his race. Tenricka can be tabbed. She was closing stoutly at the end. Morinel is but a dasher. She was poorly handled. The Lily is best in fast going. So is Towanda.

Overweights—Towanda, 4½ pounds.

Winner—B. h. 5, by Wagner—Bettie Wilson.
Start fair. The first two were driving hard. Navahoe stumbled and was shut off. May Pinkerton and Frances M both tired in the closing drive. Sister Myra would have won in another stride. Helen H ran a fair race.

Scratched—Conspirator, 103.

Winner—Br. g. 3, by King Galop—We Way.
Post 6 minutes. Start good. The first four were driving hard. Our Bishop should have won. He lost a lot of ground swinging into the stretch. Crystalline stopped to nothing. Tole Simmons finished gamely under punishment. Geo. B. Cox could never get up. Caddie C tired in the stretch. So did Dunster.

Overweights—George B. Cox, 3 1/2 pounds; Dinsmore, 5.

3645 SECOND RACE—1 Mile and 20 Yards. Purse $250. 3-year-olds. Selling.

Winner—B. c, by Quicklime—Sumatra.
Off first break. Start good. Won easily; the next three were driving. Flop had no speed. The rain that set in previous to the race hurt his chances. Banrica ran well, but tired at the end. Seaport came away under ready. He, like others from the same stable, runs in and out. The rain favored him. Dudley E finished with a rush. Mr. Eastin will hardly do.
